

HOW A NIGHT COMES TOGETHER

- 1 List your services
PA packages, lighting rigs, stage kits — specs, day rates, travel radius.
- 2 Accept dated, spec'd requests
See the room, the crowd, and your net before you commit the van.
- 3 Work the event
Load-in to strike, scheduled where every collaborator can see it.
- 4 Get settled, get reviewed
Paid without invoicing; reviews from real events build the book.

The honesty rule

A night that doesn't reach its threshold simply rests: every guest is refunded in full, automatically, and nobody owes anybody. The app says it plainly: "Didn't come together."

THE WAY IT WORKS TODAY

Gigs come late, specs come vague, and the money comes last. You quote blind, haul gear on a promise, and invoice into silence.

What changes with XLNT

Specs before you quote

Every request carries the space, headcount, hours, and what's already cast. Quote the real event, not the guess.

Load-in on the run-of-show

Times, access, power, contacts — on the event page you share with everyone else working the night.

Guaranteed money, one settlement

Your rate frozen at acceptance, captured with the event, settled the morning after.

WHY THIS IS DIFFERENT

Not another listing site

XLNT runs the whole night — the demand, the booking, and the money between — in one community app.

~~Rental houses move boxes~~

XLNT books your crew and kit into produced gatherings.

~~Quotes vanish into email~~

Requests carry answer-by dates; silence can't strand your calendar.

~~Deposits require chasing~~

Captured with the event, settled automatically — 8%, published.

Demand before risk — for everyone

Nights launch only when enough neighbors have backed them and paid. Hosts stop gambling; you cook, pour, play, and park against real numbers.

Reputation that compounds locally

Every night adds verified reviews to one portable record. In a county-first community, your last event markets your next one.
